

MEET THE FUTURE
EMPLOYABILITY REPORT

2016 - 2021

BEHIND THE NUMBERS

Students and alumni are the centerpiece of the Harbour.Space ecosystem. We have seen four generations of students leave prepared for the industry's challenges.

WINNING HACKATHONS. EXCELLING AT INTERNSHIPS. IMPRESSING THE FACULTY. CAPITALIZING ON OUR NETWORK.

We offer students shortcuts to enter the job market.

That's how Annabelle became a Designer at EF (Education First), it's how Shannon started working as an Analyst at Zeptolab, and it's how Dmitrii joined Toptal as a Marketing Specialist.

We spoke to 70% of them to see how they're building their legacy and changing the world.

THIS REPORT IS A TRIBUTE TO THEIR ACHIEVEMENTS.

THE FACTS

As long as we provide opportunities for our students to excel, they'll do everything that it takes to accomplish their goals.

Juneza Niyazi

Master in Interaction Design

The cultural ethos of Harbour.Space is extremely stimulating and inspiring because you do not learn your field in isolation, but as part of a larger ecosystem which involves business, marketing and technology. The students are highly driven and motivated to push ideas beyond the perceived limit.

Leo Breitenberger

Master in Cyber Security

Even though we came from all over the world, my classmates and I all shared the same ambition. Everyone is here to grow. I am also grateful to my professors, who came in and taught us what we actually need to know in this field.

Diego Gladig

Master in FinTech

My Masters at Harbour.Space was a year full of inspiration and learning. From the first moment, I felt part of one big family and I enjoyed going there every day. The professors and teaching format are unique and eventually motivated me to go all-in and found my own start-up that I am still working on today.
